Our Chambers-ranked Chicago insurance coverage litigation team seeks talented and highly motivated attorneys with 2-5 years of strong insurance coverage or commercial litigation experience. Our cases pend throughout the United States and involve cutting-edge issues and skilled adversaries. Ideal candidates will have exceptional writing and analytical skills and will have distinguished themselves in their early years of practice. We offer competitive salaries with the opportunity to earn substantial bonuses. We also offer a hybrid work environment; most of our attorneys work from the office three days a week, which we have found fosters mentoring and accelerates growth. And we like being with one another. Please submit a resume, writing sample, and unofficial transcript as a single pdf to recruiting@skarzynski.com.

About our Insurance Coverage Litigation Practice - Our team represents insurers in complex coverage and bad faith matters at the claim stage, and in litigation before trial and appellate courts across the country. Our team's successes are grounded in a deep understanding of the insurance business – from the claims, underwriting, and legal perspectives. We focus not only on our clients' case-specific positions, defenses, and interests, but also on their overall portfolio interests. We serve as lead and national coordinating counsel to insurers in disputes over general liability coverage for mass torts, environmental matters, product contamination/recall, D&O, professional liability, and a wide range of other types of coverage.
